Welcome to the City of Queens!

We have created this brochure to be your informative and helpful Travel Companion during your visit to Veszprém. Have you been to our city before? If not, this is a great opportunity to discover its treasures! However, if you have visited Veszprém in the past, you will surely remember the Castle and the Zoo fondly. Nevertheless, our city has even more to offer! Here you will find a varied environment; you can take a walk in the romantic Séd Valley (Séd-völgy) or admire the sights of the Bakony Mountains and Lake Balaton. At the same time, the city is regarded as the home of culture and festivals and is the right choice if you wish to spend your free-time actively. Not only does it hold an undoubtedly important role in the Hungarian handball tradition, Veszprém is also the centre of knowledge and innovation. Surrounded by and interwoven with legends, the numerous historical memories are important parts of the city. Veszprém offers high quality restaurants and accommodation. These features are all testaments of the diverse nature of our city.

As proud citizens, we gladly recommend Veszprém as a tourist destination to you and your family because we know the secret, the feeling that captivates our visitors and stays with them even after their visit. Hopefully, by browsing through our brochure you will understand why it is worth visiting Veszprém and you will let this be the beginning of a new love...

Veszpréms Zoo
Come and visit the Kittenberger Kálmán Zoo! With its continuously extending services, this is one of Hungary’s zoos with the longest tradition outside the capital.

St Michael’s Basilica
Hungary’s first and oldest cathedral is located in the Castle. This is where the arm bone of Blessed Gizella is kept as a relic.

St Emeric Piarist and Garrison Church
Visit the church and have a look at the ecclesiastical and contemporary exhibits in the exhibition room.

Salesianum
Discover the fine baroque building of the Archbishopric’s Touristic Centre (Érsekségi Turisztikai Központ). Enter the interactive exhibition halls and the herb room. An interesting feature of the latter is its glass floor.

Laczkó Dezső Museum
The museum’s collection includes the ethnography, archaeology, history, visual- and applied art and literary history of the city and the county.

Cloisters and gardens
Take a walk in the picturesque Veszprém Valley. Be it winter or summer, cycling or strolling down the path between the Castle and the Zoo is a treat for everyone.

VeszprémFest
This high-quality musical and cultural event takes place in the Castle area, in one of the most beautiful baroque squares of the country, the Holy Trinity Square (Szentháromság tér).

Street Music Festival
Represented by various bands and diverse musical style, this festival creates a high spirited, cheerful atmosphere. The city centre is alive with the sound of music from morning until late night.

Veszkrémes
This cake is a local specialty: it is named after and bears the emblem of the city. It is a variant of the Hungarian vanilla cream slice, the so-called krémes.

Telekom Veszprém men’s handball team
The team’s achievements: 24-time Hungarian Champions, 25-time Hungarian Cup winner, two-time EHF Cup Winner’s Cup winner and three-time EHF Champions League finalist.

Kossuth Street - Pedestrian Street
The pedestrian street was rebuilt together with the entire city centre. Along this peaceful street, stores with new, matching appearance await customers. After a busy day of shopping, you can have a rest on the St Emereic Square (Szent Imre tér) where a playground was established to the families’ delight. From the pedestrian street an underpass with disabled access leads to the nearby market place. There is also a new tourist information point in Kossuth Street. Not far from here, various events and conferences are held in the newly finished Hangvilla, on the site of the former Séd Cinema.

Balaton Crown
In the East Balaton region of Veszprém county the settlements Balatonalmádi, Balatonfüred, Litér, Nemesvámos, Tihany, Várpalota and Veszprém set up an initiative known as the Balaton Crown, a local money substitute voucher system, which you can use in exactly the same way as Forints. The establishments accepting the Balaton Crown also give discounts to the customers. Look out for the places which display the Balaton Crown sign in this brochure and also in the settlements!

Street Gallery
The underpass in Budapest Street, named after the artist László Szilágyi, received public and cultural functions as of September, 2013. Szilágyi, who was a punk painter born in Veszprém but died young. One end of the underpass also lists the names of artists whose works can be seen in the Modern Art Gallery – Vass László Collection (Modern Képtár – Vass László Gyűjtemény).
Beatified Gisela Archdiocese Collection
Veszprém has the country’s second richest ecclesiological collection. In its permanent exhibition about the queen-crowning bishops visitors can see Bishop Albert Vetési’s Venetian chasuble from the 15th century, the copy of the coronation mantle made in Vienna in the 19th century and the chasuble set made from the coronation robe of Queen Elizabeth.

Historic listed buildings belonging to the Collection:

Gisela Chapel
This episcopal or royal private chapel was built by Bishop Robertus. The walls are covered with Byzantine frescoes of the apostles painted in the 13th century which are among the oldest paintings in Hungary. Other unique traits of the chapel include its archstones.

St George Chapel
During the archaeological restoration of the 13th century chapel a round church (rotunda) was found. The legend of St Emeric, written between 1109 and 1112, mentions this building. The chapel used to house the head relic of St George, received by St Stephen from the Byzantine emperor as a gift for his victory over the Bulgarians between 1016 and 1018. The red marble gravestone of Albert Vetési, leading diplomat of King Matthias, can still be seen here.

Archbishop’s Palace – “Remembrance of Queens Elisabeth and Zita” interior exhibition
The Palace, a masterpiece of the Hungarian baroque architecture was built between 1765 and 1776. Its construction was commissioned by Bishop Ignác Koller and was designed by Jakab Fellner, architect of the Esterházy family. The Palace’s interior is decorated with gypsum stuccos by the Italian artist Giuseppe Orsatti, with frescoes on the ceiling painted in 1772 by Viennese artist Johann Cymbal, engravings ordered from Paris by Ignác Koller, and a settee with mother of pearl inlay made to honour the visit of Queen Elisabeth and other gorgeous Empire style furniture decorate the rooms.

St Emeric Piarist and Garrison Church
This Classicist style church is dedicated to Saint Emeric and the Virgin Mary. The frescoes covering the ceiling were painted by Antal Szirmai, the apsis walls were made by Ferenc Bucher and the altarpiece by Rudolf Steiner. It was built next to the Piarist school and monastery (Piarista Gimnázium és Rendház), the modern educational and spiritual centre of the Piarists who settled in Veszprém in 1711. Today the church belongs to the Hungarian Military. Its exhibition room hosts exhibitions of ecclesiological and contemporary visual art from the Beatified Gisela Archdiocese Collection. The St Emeric Piarist and Garrison Church can be visited for free, however it is closed in the winter season.

Franciscan Church
The Franciscan Church, built with one nave between 1723 and 1730 in Baroque style, can be found in the Castle area. The only original piece of the Neo-Roman style facade is the gate, facing east, decorated with a keystone. To the left from the gate a marble board commemorates Pál Ányos, the poet priest who is buried in the crypt of the church.

St Michael’s Basilica
St Michael’s Basilica, built in the times of the Hungarian Ruler Árpád with two towers and three naves, was already mentioned in a document of Pannonhalma Abbey from 1001. The crypt of the cathedral was built in Roman style in the 11th century and the sanctuary was added in the 14th century in Gothic style. It gained its current Neo-Roman style when the cathedral was refurbished between 1907 and 1910. The stained glass windows depict Saints from the Árpád House. The cathedral has been the home of the arm bone relics of the Beatified Queen Gisella since 1996. The basilica can be visited from May to October every day between 10.00 and 19.00 through the side door.

Salesianum - Archbishopric’s Tourist Centre
Interactive exhibition halls, a glass bottomed herb room, splendid interiors decorated with Baroque style wall paintings, treasures of the liturgy, a working violin maker’s workshop, a herb garden with great views, wafer and candle making workshops, a cinema room, a children’s activity area, various colourful temporary exhibitions: can all be found in the Salesianum!

Csikász Gallery
The Csikász Gallery can be found in the gateway leading to the Fire Lookout Tower and it houses temporary exhibitions for the House of Arts. The gallery frequently offers guided tours of the temporary exhibitions, art appreciation programmes and often house audiences with various artists.

Modern Art Gallery – Vass László Collection
This collection is the most significant art collection of the works of constructivist artists in Hungary. The permanent exhibition includes the creations of artists such as Jenő Barcsay, István Haraszty, Francoise Morellet, Alan Charlton, Max Bill and other famous Hungarian and international artists. In May the temporary exhibition room hosts the exhibition of works by the German visual artist Reinhard Roy while in July visitors can see the works of Dutch visual artist Bob Bonies.

Dubniczay Palace – László Károly Collection
As one of the most beautiful late Baroque style buildings of Veszprém, the Palace built in 1751, is the home of the visual art collection of Hungarian art collector Károly László. Besides the classic modern artists of the 20th century such as József Rippl-Rónai, Vilmos Aba-Novák and Pál Molnár C, the greatest figures of the Bauhaus have a significant part in the collection. Lajos Kassák’s unique picture architectures can be found here just like the graphics and photos of the world-wide famous artist László Moholy-Nagy. The works of Victor Vasarely are also included into the permanent exhibition.

Tegularium
The Tegularium is a brick collection that can be found in the cellar of the Dubniczay Palace. It has unique roof tiles and various types of bricks on display. The exhibition showcases old tools for brick making and the usage of clay-based building materials through the years, starting from the Roman Age.
Laczkó Dezső Museum
The Laczkó Dezső Veszprém County Museum presents the county to the world and the world to the people of the county. They tell stories of the past, present and future. The 330,000 items in the collection of the museum depict the ethnography, archaeology, history, creative arts and literary history, and the numismatic collection is also significant.

RAK-TÁR-LAT – Storage Exhibition
Only about 1% of the collections of the museum can be seen in the various exhibitions, the other 99% is safely stored in boxes and drawers. A 20,000 item collection of the total 300,000 can now be visited in the Storage Exhibition. Visiting is possible by appointment and with guiding.

Bakony House
The Bakony House is situated next to the Laczkó Dezső Museum and is one of the earliest Hungarian open air ethnographic exhibitions. The building furnished with artefacts from the museum offers the visitors an insight into the peasant culture typical of our region.

Heroes’ Gate
The Heroes’ Gate was inaugurated in 1939 and restored in 2013. In its exhibition, visitors cannot only learn about the original function and history of the Gate but also acquire some knowledge of local history and about important landmark events from the city’s past.

Fire Lookout Tower
The only tower of the Castle remaining from the medieval times, the Fire Lookout Tower can be found on the highest point of the city. It plays the tune of Antal Csermák’s conscription music every hour. The tower offers great views of the parts of Veszprém from its circular balcony.
In the picturesque Fejes Valley area we can see traditional zoo animals such as the big cats from exotic places, the enormous Kamchatka brown bears, the colourful water birds and other unique animals like the playful Madagascan lemurs and the Gelada baboons, the funny tapirs, the ever curious meerkats and the red panda couple.

The Africa Savannah enclosure, occupying a 15,000 m² area on the Gulya Hill, enjoys the most popularity, as visitors can observe ostriches, zebras, and a herd of giraffes and the three members of the square lipped rhino family. Meanwhile visitors can also rest on the covered lookout tower above the enclosure.

The Chimpanzee World was built next to the Savannah enclosure. At the moment two groups of chimpanzees fill the house with life. In the inner area only a glass panel separates the chimps and the visitors, while in the outer enclosure a moat serves the same function.

During your visit, you can observe animal feedings, stop at the petting zoo and have fun at the outdoor and indoor playgrounds.
YOU MUST SEE THEM FOR YOURSELVES!
The Veszprém Valley offers numerous leisure activities and is a real gem of Veszprém. Walking hand in hand, going for a stroll, having a rest on a comfortable bench, having a coffee and a chat in the Historia Garden are all possible here. Hungarian Folk Tales and “Siege” playgrounds await the children. A rising number of people find the area ideal for their new passion, “nordic walking”.

The valley also attracts a range of people for climbing, others prefer to mount their bikes or put roller skates on. Embraced by shady trees and alleys we can find monuments from the Árpád Era such as the Margaret Ruins, the ruins of the Veszprém Valley Nunnery and the Jesuit Church.

The Veszprém Valley offers a wide range of programmes throughout the year: varied events, concerts, all-day programmes for families, folksdance and exhibitions.
LEISURE AND ACTIVITY IN THE VESZPRÉM VALLEY

The city of hills and valleys shaped by the Séd Brook invites everyone for walks, strolls with the loved one or pleasant chats in a café. This can now be enjoyed outside the city centre, in the natural environment as well.

Veszprém and its surroundings offer an excellent ground for those enjoying cycle tours. Veszprém can be approached by bike from two directions: one route starts from where the No73 road reaches Veszprém and leads to the city centre, and on the other one we can cycle down to Lake Balaton, to Balatonalmádi from the city centre. Great news for the cycling community: thanks to the successful project fund applications, path system has been expanded with several kilometres and the connections with the nearby settlements have also been improved. Now you can go as far as Nemesvámos on a two-wheeler.

We would recommend you to leave your bike after a tour at the safe parking by the Theatre Park and discover the treasures of the city on foot!

Mount your bike and start discovering the beautiful surroundings with your friends and relatives! If you get tired, by the evening you can stay to rest in one of Veszprém’s friendly hotels or B&Bs. Come and visit us!
Once you have walked around the streets of Veszprém, it is worth putting on comfortable clothes and discover the neighbouring areas on foot, by bike or by car.

In Balatonalmádi we recommend a visit to the fortress church from the Árpád era in the Vörösberény part to those interested in architecture, while children should see the old 375 steam engine that used to run here. We can raise our adrenalin levels at the Balatonfűzfő Bobsleigh.

Heading west we reach the capital of the northern shore Balatonfüred, where we can take a walk in the Reform era or stroll along the Tagore Promenade.

Not far from here is Tihany, the multifaceted peninsula, the land of the lavender, the echo and of the legendary sheep hooves which offers a spectacular view. Tourists can find a charming new attraction, the Lavender House Visitor Centre on the shore of the Inner Lake (Belső-tó).

From here we can continue our journey to the Herend Porcelanium where we can observe the making of the world famous luxury porcelain.
